Drama – and an exciting future

By

MALCOLM BRODIE, M.B.E.

WHAT a season. A season of drama with a finale which even a Hollywood scriptwriter could not have surpassed. It was nail-biting from start to finish and, although Linfield collected four trophies including the Irish League and Cup double there was a competitive element throughout. Add to that increased sponsorship and Irish League football never had it so good.

It was a season of change, too. Irish FA president Harry Cavan retired after 36 years distinguished service to the national body and to FIFA to be succeeded by Sammy Walker (Coleraine) and, of course, the illustrious reign of manager Billy Bingham came to an end when he called it a day in January with the job going to Bryan Hamilton, the first full-time occupant.

A new Irish FA sponsorship was attained with Scottish and Newcastle Breweries — McEwans Lager — taking over from Vauxhall in a lucrative four year package. "What is particularly exciting about this venture," said Richard Gibb S&N marketing director, "is that it enables the IFA to reorganise its team management structure as well as appointing a full-time manager with experienced back-up staff to step up development of the sport throughout the Province."

From a playing viewpoint Bingham had left a settled promising side — one honed and matured by him since the break-up of his squad after World Cup, Mexico, '86. It had been a long painstaking process but he was able to hand over to Hamilton the nucleus of a panel capable perhaps of making a decisive impact in the European championship.

Hamilton began with a 2-0 win over Romania and then a 4-1 triumph in the first of the European Group Six games against lowly Liechtenstein followed by an excellent 'B' performance in the Hillsborough, Sheffield match with England. Then came the United States tour and the fixtures against World Cup finalists Colombia in Boston and Mexico in Miami — first visit of an Irish FA side to the States since 1953.

For Linfield it was success all the way. Their story began with the European Champions Cup game against Tbilisi and the saga of the aircraft bursting a tyre when landing at Lvov followed by an aggregate preliminary round defeat, but Tbilisi were thrown out of the competition for alleged bribery of the match officials in their home leg. This was followed by the 3-0 first round win over FC Copenhagen only to lose 4-3 on aggregate in the next game, as controversy arose over the referee playing unnecessary injury time at the end of the 90 minutes.

Portadown and Glenavon provided the main challenge in the Irish League championship to the Blues and who will ever forget April 30 — the last day of the programme. Linfield defeated Glentoran 2-0 and if Glenavon and Portadown drew on the same day they were champions. The Windsor Park game finished five minutes before that at Mourneview as thousands waited for the result. It was a 2-2 draw — launching pad for scenes of unbelievable euphoria as Linfield took the title for the first time since 1982, later beating Bangor 2-0 in the Irish Cup Final.

Glenavon, now a vibrant progressive club, must be highly commended for the initiative and foresight in building a new stand, administrative block and provision of other facilities — first phase of a major development planned to take them into the next century. Distillery have also a new all-seated stand at Ballyskeagh, part of the amenities for the greyhound racing which commenced in May while Newry, plagued for so long by financial problems, opened their ultra-modern dressing room complex in August. Ards have also a new pavilion set-up and boardroom.

For Glentoran it has been a season of anguish as the team passed through one of its most depressing phases in history. Now under new manager Tommy Cassidy, they are engaged in a rebuilding process determined, like the other clubs, to finish in the top eight.

That is the magical figure to be used determining the composition of the Premier and First Division, when promotion and relegation is introduced in the 1995-96 season, with one club going down and one up.

This is a revolutionary step which many consider will give added stimulus to the game but it remains to be seen what impact it will have on those destined to the First Division. It could perhaps be a struggle for survival, while the continuation of the security ban on Cliftonville playing home matches against Linfield at Solitude is an added complication.

It was a year which saw the passing of some great Northern Ireland football stalwarts — Danny Blanchflower, Jimmy McAlinden, Norman Lockhart and Ray Ferrie as well as a number of leading legislators including Harry McNeely, ex-Glentoran chairman and life member of the Irish FA.
